Dear Parents/Carers

Thank you so much for your support this half term. Whether that support has been getting your children into school for lessons or helping them to learn at home, you have been amazing.

The children have adapted admirably to this very different style of learning. Those at home have been so good at both joining and taking part in the live lessons and then completing all their work. Those in school have had to show tremendous patience as their teacher has grappled with the technical side of live learning.

None of this would be possible without you. Goodness knows how you have managed the restrictions of time and technology whilst juggling family, work and personal requirements, but we are very grateful.

We have tried to make next week (the last one before the half-term break) a little different in terms of content. There will be some choice of activity and, as the English activities include spelling and computing, these won't appear as separate scheduled lessons. There is one Active Reading task which we would love your child to complete independently if they can. If they need a bit of help, however, that's fine! It would be very useful if you or your child could write 'independent' at the top of their active reading work if they have managed to read it and answer the questions by themselves. If you or they could just write an 'S' in pen next to any answer they had help with, that would also be helpful, but it isn't essential.

Please continue to encourage your child to complete their work to the highest possible standard and to attend all the live lessons. Just one more week of hard work before they get a well-deserved rest!

We hope you have a lovely weekend,

Mrs Watson, Mrs Pakes, Mrs Cook, Mrs Taylor, and Mrs Freer
